January 2017

Dear Artisan, Crafter, Demonstrator, Reenactor and Vendor,

On behalf of the Cumberland County Historical Society, we would like to take this opportunity to wish you and your family a very Happy New Year! We hope it is filled with good health and prosperity.

We are already working on this year's 46th Annual Greenwich Artisans' Faire and Marketplace—Fine Art and Fine Craft Festival. This event will be held on Saturday and Sunday, September 23 and 24, 2017. The hours will be from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Sunday. It will be held on the grounds of the circa 1730 Gibbon House, located at 960 Ye Greate Street in Greenwich (Cumberland County), New Jersey. This event has evolved into one of the major festivals occurring locally in South Jersey.

This past year, we had over 90 artists and craftsmen from throughout New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Connecticut who displayed and sold their unique creations during this event. Many new demonstrators joined us and allowed over 3,000 visitors to step back in time. Our Faire is growing and attendance continues to increase. People come from the tristate area to enjoy the festivities. Because of the uniqueness of our event for the area, vendors and their wares are juried; we are looking for quality, uniqueness, and an early colonial flair.

Enclosed is information about this year's Artisans' Faire. If you have any questions on this material, please feel free to call the office at 856-455-8580.

When we receive your signed contract and $85 entry fee, we will send an information packet to you, along with the Artisans' Faire fliers. Please return your contract as soon as possible and your place at the Greenwich Artisans' Faire will be guaranteed.

We are looking forward to seeing you in September for this fun and growing event with great enthusiasm and excitement.

Sincerely,

Joe DeLuca
